During the process of choosing a cleaning company it will serve you well to find out if they can provide good pricing for the consumable products such as toilet paper, hand towels, hand soaps, air fresheners, trash liners, etc. Many of the larger cleaning companies can actually save your company money due to their massive purchasing power. Usually they are supplying several hundred buildings and can pass their benefits of that purchasing scale onto their clients. Another advantage to purchasing consumable products from your cleaning company is free drop shipping or free delivery directly from the cleaning companies warehouse. Obviously the more buildings that a cleaning company has in it's portfolio the less your company will have to pay for these expensive consumable products. Even more benefits can arise from this relationship, when prices rise the cleaning company can absorb some of these increase whereas retail outlets will not be able to do that. If you run out of toilet paper your cleaning company will more than likely have plenty on hand in it's warehouse and can have it delivered as soon as possible. In most case you will have to place an order several days in advance.
